Saving Lives

The more information the better

Allowing authorised healthcare staff to view information from your GP record will provide them with important and potentially life-saving information; it will also help to reduce unnecessary repeat tests, such as blood tests and X-rays.

Sharing your medical record could save your life

Did you know...

Your GP medical record is the most complete record of your health and wellbeing.

But did you know that when you visit a hospital, access mental health services, out of hours services, or need an ambulance, those treating you cannot access your record? Your Care Connected makes it possible to share vital information about you to improve the medical care that you receive across Birmingham, Sandwell and Solihull.

Your Care Connected allows doctors, nurses and authorised healthcare staff directly caring for you to securely view information from your GP record to provide you with better, safer care.

How this helps you

- ♥ Faster and easier access to your medical information, which could save your life
- ♥ Provides vital information such as any medication you take and the dosage, any allergies you may have, any important diagnoses, any recent test results and the name of your GP
- ♥ Improves the safety and quality of your care
- ♥ Less time spent filling in forms
- ♥ More secure than your GP sending via fax or recorded delivery to the participating organisations (which is a common alternative)
- ♥ Enables safer delivery of care in an emergency

"Your Care Connected will take a lot of the stress away from hospital visits; having one system tell my story, providing all the reliable and essential information about me will help to provide me with better care" Adrian, Patient

Saving Time
